

Call for Juried Papers

Conference Theme: Exploring Learning in a Global Information Context

Deadline for Juried Paper submissions (max. 1,000 words): March 15, 2019
Notification of acceptance: May 15, 2019

This call for Juried Papers seeks original contributions including reports of research, theory, pedagogy, best practices, think pieces, and critical essays that contribute to elaboration of the conference theme of "Exploring Learning in a Global Information Context." This conference welcomes contributions that explore how LIS schools in various parts of the world respond to the growing career opportunities in the information professions by developing curricula, programs, and research activities that address global LIS education issues.

Submissions should be original, not papers that have been previously published. The work should not be under review elsewhere, including at another conference, journal or workshop.

There are no restrictions on research methodology. Alternative perspectives, creative and non-conventional responses to library and information science education concerns within the context of inquiry supporting teaching, research and professional practice are welcomed and encouraged!
